Using the discarded material of the civilisation around him. He chooses to use only man made materials recovered from beaches, partly as a practical gesture and partly to make an obvious environmental point. In using these materials and their provenance to reflect society and its conflicted attitudes to itself he is making an implicit comment on that society. Sometimes ironic, sometimes amused, sometimes horrified.

Christmas at CRiC

While the autumn exhibition in the oriel CRiC gallery is still delighting visitors to Crickhowell, preparations are underway for a celebration of the festive season. Both the gallery and the downstairs retail area are showcasing beautiful original gifts and seasonal inspiration in the tempting array of paintings, prints, ceramics, textiles, gifts, Welsh products, books and cards.

To start off these celebrations, the gallery is hosting an exhibition entitled "Time for tea" (11th November – 10th December) in the CRiC Studio showcasing the work of popular artists including Jantien Powell, Jill Barneby, Liz Westcott and Patricia Kelly. Alongside the paintings, ceramics and textiles, Jennifer Collier will share items from her fantastical world, where every exquisite detail is made, folded and manipulated from paper.

The gallery is delighted to welcome paintings by members of the Royal Watercolour Society of Wales to its popular annual "Christmas at CRiC" exhibition which will run in the oriel CRiC gallery upstairs at CRiC from 15th November until early January. In the spirit of the season, Rhian Symes, who has since 2008 been an elected member of the Society, is offering a number of her original paintings, prints and unmounted prints at reduced prices for the duration of the exhibition. This will be an opportunity for her many admirers and followers to enjoy a collection of some previously unseen work. Both these exhibitions will be a celebration of art and craftsmanship which is sure to delight visitors in the run up to the festive season.

Crickhowell has a special kind of magic at Christmas and Late Night Shopping (7th December) gives the perfect excuse to enjoy the festive atmosphere. The independent High Street traders will be welcoming visitors to the town with something for everyone and a Craft Fair in the Clarence Hall will offer an exceptional collection of handcrafted gifts, eye catching decorations and a tempting array of artisan foods. This an ideal opportunity to come and enjoy a delightful evening out while getting a head start on your plans for memorable Christmas celebrations.

As part of the celebrations, Giles Gallery is marking it's decennial with a beautiful rebranding, provided by its new, in house graphic designer, Steve Coleman. As part of this, a new website has been launched with regular updates on events and exhibitions.

With solo and group exhibitions booked and planned as far as 2020, the calendar promises to be a varied and exciting one! Regularly, artists and crafts persons from outside the gallery come to offer classes and workshops. Calligraphy, floristry, wire work and stained glass, to list but a few of the skills on offer to learn and try.

Details of upcoming exhibitions & courses can be found on the website.

As ever, Giles Gallery owner and Artist/ illustrator, Beth Giles, keeps busy teaching her regular art classes, exhibiting her own work and accepting further commissions. Beth is currently working on a new series of pieces, inspired by the fauna of the local countryside.

"This is actually a re- visit to this subject for me, I started work in this theme when I took part in the Eisteddfod 2012. It was well received then, but commissions and book illustrations on varying topics took me away from them, but having gained experience in time management after running this business for ten years, and allowing myself more freedom to pursue my own creative journey, it has allowed me to explore, improve and perfect this idea, and to have a lot of fun doing so, I can't wait to see where it takes me."

Giles Gallery is well worth the trip, known for its relaxed and welcoming atmosphere. If ever there was a good time to discover it, or to pay them a return visit, why not make it to their birthday! You would be warmly received.

Rhiannon Art gets creative for 'Enfys' the Snow Dog...

Creating a huge buzz in Cardiff over the past few weeks, are the 'Snow Dogs' sculptures, dotted around Wales' capital city. An initiative from the childrens charity Tŷ Hafan. One of the fabulous people and much loved artists involed, is Rhiannon Roberts of Rhiannon Art Ltd. Rhiannon's snowdog 'Enfys', rainbow in Welsh, will be on show near the Hayes Island Snack Bar until the 26th of November and there will be a fairwell weekend for all of the snow dogs at the Capitol Centre in Cardiff on the 8th, 9th and 10th of December.

Rhiannon will see you all there!

I here you ask "what are these snow dogs all about"? Here's what the website has to say:

"For ten weeks during autumn 2017, a pack of Snowdogs will take over the city's streets, iconic buildings and open spaces.

Standing at 1.5m tall, each of these large fibre-glass sculptures will be individually decorated, fixed onto a concrete plinth and transported to their temporary home at a point along the trail for all to enjoy.

At the end of the trail, the large Snowdog sculptures will be sold at auction to raise funds for Tŷ Hafan.

Local schools, adult learners and community groups will also be invited to sponsor and design a little Snowdog to feature on a mini trail. The pup will be theirs to keep at the end of the event."

Rhiannon is incredibly proud to be a part of this amazing cause.

We have yet another fantastic selection of artist and crafts people, together with a varied selection of food and alcohol producers together with a small percentage of trade and co-operative exhibitors reflecting the ethos of our event.

Our talented makers with their unique products are the essence of what makes the Cardiff Christmas Market so special, with each one carefully selected to give you the best shopping offer possible. From Welsh slate and crafted candles, to tasty cheeses, fruit wines, silver jewellery, pottery, beautiful textiles and original artwork you'll be able to find something for everyone on your Christmas gifts list whilst enjoying a glass of hot mulled wine as you browse.

A list of everyone taking part will be available shortly on our website so if you are planning to visit a specific exhibitor, or are looking for a certain craft, we would advise that you check first as not everyone is taking part for the full forty five days. Ipixel Art

"I'm proud to let my customers do the talking"

Paul Burgess

"Hats off yet again to Craig at IPixel Art, I had to get some prints done but Craig was so busy he couldn't see me until 5pm, which was obviously when he should have been going home. He spent over one and a half hours going through everything with a fine tooth comb and wouldn't stop until it was all perfect. It's a real pleasure to work with someone who is so conscientious about what they do and reassuring that my work is in such professional hands."

Tracey-Anne Stich

"I've been going to I-Pixel since 2007 and will continue to take my watercolours for capture because Craig always delivers - fast, efficient, friendly service and beautiful prints, which I'm hard pressed to tell apart from my originals"

Lee Wright

"Since using IPixel Art to produce fine art reproductions of my work I have been able to reach a wider audience, thus dramatically increasing my profile and the revenues of my art business. I have been incredibly impressed at the skill and determination of Craig in ensuring that the reproductions of my art always look as good, and often better, than the originals!"

David Day

"I have used IPixel Art for many years. Craig has always been extremely helpful and has never let me down on urgent jobs. Craig is prepared to work closely with the artist, and the quality of the prints are incredible. My customers have regularly commented to me on how amazed they are with the printed versions of my work."

Goff Danter

"IPixel Art has made a major contribution to the development of my reputation as a professional artist. Craig's commitment to providing the best possible service by understanding the needs of his customers has enabled me to reach a much larger audience, sooner than expected."

Jeremy Thomas

"Craig has been reproducing my work for many years and has helped me enormously, he has an attention to detail that is second to none, working tirelessly to ensure that the subtleties in colour are captured perfectly and the printed image is beautifully crisp and clear. Craig is always prompt and professional, but above all else, a thoroughly nice guy. I'm always impressed by IPixel Art... thanks for all the hard work."

For over 12 years I-Pixel has been fortunate enough to have worked with a diverse range of both established and fledgling artists. Above you can see some of the testimonials given by just a small selection of them. I-Pixel Art specialise in the capture and reproduction of fine art, producing limited or open edition prints.
