Samuel Souter is a maker of bespoke, handcrafted wooden furniture and homeware items. He created srgs woodwork in March 2020 in order to provide a friendly small-scale, customer-led service, whilst also producing his own range of functional homeware to sell at fairs and exhibitions. When designing items he tends to gravitate towards a style of woodwork that is quite angular and linear. He likes crisp, sharp lines and items that benefit from careful proportions and balance. They're often quite simply designed – with an appreciation for un-fussy designs himself, his pieces tend to have a simplicity and modesty to them. See his website for upcoming December craft fairs and pick up affordable items from his new homeware range.

2 Dawn Harries

Facebook: @dawnharriesart

Dawn Harries is a Welsh artist with a passion for nature and wildlife. Primarily a landscape painter, she draws inspiration from the stunning natural beauty of the British countryside, especially her local surroundings of Wales with its rolling hills and rugged coastline.

She loves to capture the effects of light and shadow in her work, using various mediums in an impressionistic style.

Dawn's work can be purchased directly through her website or social media, where you'll also find information regarding gallery shows and exhibitions.

Christmas is coming and its time for the mackerel to don their party hats and the Samba birds to shake their tail feathers!

You can see my quirky recycled Christmas decorations and pictures during the festive period at Wye Willow in Llandrindod wells, Oriel Cric, Beautifully Bonkers in Builth, Oil and Oak Hay on Wye and in St Davids cathedral on Saturday December 4th at the Christmas fair 10-4pm.

More information can be found on my social media accounts. Dare to be different and decorate your tree with a mackerel - a talking point whilst sipping the sherry!!

4 Gigi Jones

Facebook - GigijonesArtist
Instagram - gigijonesart

Based near Caerphilly, Gigi's work is primarily inspired by local landscapes and those from her travels.

She is particularly interested in the connection between nature and human experience and the impact these two things have on each other. She aims to capture the feeling of being somewhere. This is conjured up by her use of dramatic light and texture, creating a powerful sense of place, both physical and spiritual.

Gigi's work can be purchased directly from her website where you will also find links to paintings that are available from galleries or ongoing exhibitions.

5 Ellie Burton Glass

I am fascinated by the fluidity of hot glass and the control required to work with it.

I particularly enjoy allowing the material to dictate the form of the pieces in a natural way. My work has been developed through experimenting with layering different colours both solid and frit, to see how it affects the final form.

I am inspired by the way Mother Nature reclaims many aspects of human life - both architectural and other forms of everyday life. I am currently working on some new ideas inspired by the natural events of the past year.

The oriel CRiC gallery staff and volunteer team would like to wish everyone a joyful, happy and safe festive season. Crickhowell has a particular charm this time of the year and the team very much look forward to welcoming friends old and new to the colourful Christmas and winter exhibition to end the Centre's fifteenth year on a high note. The gallery upstairs in the centre showcases paintings, prints, ceramics, sculpture and jewellery and the downstairs retail area has a delightful offering of Welsh and locally produced products, gifts, books and cards to tempt anyone – ideal for Christmas.

CRiC is currently open 6 days/week Mon through to Sat 10am till 4.30pm, pop in and see for yourself what's on offer – you won't be disappointed."

Open 11am - 4pm, Wednesday - Saturday
until we hibernate through Jan, Feb & March

www.MadeintheMarches.com

Made in the Marches is a venue to celebrate the work of established and emerging artists and makers, living and working the Marches of Herefordshire, Shropshire and Powys.

Originally established as a family project, the gallery is also guided by a small cooperative of local artists, whose imaginative input and experience have helped create a vibrant hub of creativity and expression for Kington.

This characterful venue hosts themed, seasonal exhibitions featuring a diverse and changing collection of art and craft, reflecting the talent and essence of the region. This December, alongside new works from our co-op artists, we're offering some sparkle and joy with decorative ceramics from Steph Scott, gorgeously unique jewellery from Angela Soulier, and plenty more delights to discover!

We believe that art is for everyone, and with that in mind, we have worked with some of our creative friends to offer a range of artist-designed kits: learn to hook and prog with Jenni Stuart-Anderson's rag-rugging kits, get 'Drawn to Nature' with Becca Finney's sketching starter kit, and make your own festive decorations with Freya Gamble's Origami Stars kit. We also stock a tempting range of high quality art materials at competitive prices.

Visit us this festive season for gifts and treats, from paintings and sculpture to artist-designed and handmade homewares; from alpaca hats and mitts to bio-printed silk, and a rich variety of original decorations and wonderful cards. We look forward to welcoming you soon.

Susan Stevens-Jenkins

Image: Into the Orchard

A tiny garden studio in rural Herefordshire is where Susan Stevens-Jenkins creates her lino-cut prints. Her work is inspired and informed by the flowing lines and forms found in nature and observing the seasonal changes in her garden and the old orchards which border it.

Her prints are produced in small, limited editions by hand-burnishing onto fine Japanese paper, a selection of which can be seen at Oxenham Art gallery in Leominster.
